SATO Global Solutions Supports Children Battling Cancer at Allianz Championship Golf Tournament

As sponsor of the ceremonial opening tee shot, SATO joins PGA Tour Champion golfers, One Summit and spectators in the fight against childhood cancer

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., February 7, 2017 – Each year in the U.S., more than 15,000 children are diagnosed with cancer¹. But on February 10, instead of hospitals or radiation treatments, 13-year old cancer survivor Archit Datta is hitting the ceremonial opening tee shot at the Allianz Championship.

South Florida-based internet of things (IoT) solutions provider SATO Global Solutions is honored to sponsor the ceremonial opening tee shot aimed at helping children like Archit. They are also grateful to organizations like One Summit, a non-profit program founded by former Navy SEAL Adam LaReau that helps children battling cancer gain the courage, self-confidence and resilience needed to continue their fight.

“It’s important that we continue to support the efforts of groups like One Summit and Allianz who have created unique and inspirational ways to give back to our communities and to support children like Archit. We’re excited to share this experience with the golfers and spectators at the Allianz Championship,” said Goro Yumiba, chairman and CEO of SATO Global Solutions.

Through One Summit’s innovative programming, children, including Archit, are partnered with Navy SEALs to learn how to deal with challenges and adversity through activities such as rock climbing. Now, Archit, who enjoys sports like baseball and soccer, is more confident in his ability to navigate life’s challenges and is contemplating a future career in sports.

“I’ve always wanted to try golf on an actual golf course, and I feel honored to be here with the golfers,” said Archit. “I also want to thank One Summit and Allianz for giving me this opportunity.”

“At One Summit we are evening the odds in the fight against childhood cancer. It’s little warriors like Archit, who inspire us all and show the strength and determination to take cancer head on,” said LaReau, a former Lieutenant Commander in the U.S. Navy SEALs. “It’s an honor to be included in this year’s Allianz Championship, we thank all the sponsors who were able to make this a special day for Archit and his family.”
